Diversity. Flexibility. Proven Results.

“She [Barbara] led all other CoE's in defining BA standards and assessments, setting the standard for such infrastructure within UST. Further her imaginative work has led to the formation of a BA Community within UST, which has become a cohesive force for best practices.” – former Manager, UST

“[The] Presence of strong BAs in the accounts virtually assures our long term proposition and increases the visibility and respect for UST in comparison with the rest of the competition. We have some outstanding BAs in various accounts. Many of them did not have formal training or assessment and didn't really have a career plan. Under Barbara's efforts, this has shown marked change.” – CEO, UST

Business Analysis Practice Formalization

- 2003: Barbara Davis worked to introduce the world's first university accredited Business Analysis diploma program. The first course ran in 2005 with the approval of University of Winnipeg Student Senate
- Barbara interviewed and assessed approximately 300 BA's of all career levels as part of her role as Practice Director of UST Global's Business Analysis and Requirements Center of Excellence

Quality Champion

- She has become a champion for the practice by defining the BA career path, assessment tools, competencies, Key Performance Indicators, educational programs, centers of excellence, auditing and redefining practice methodologies at companies such as UST Global, Safeway and HEB.

Methodologist

- Barbara has defined new methodologies for requirements, organizational change, resource management
- She has audited numerous methodologies for PMO, testing, and business process engineering

Author

- She has written many articles and whitepapers including subjects such as change management, requirements, team management, business design, and adding value

Professional Skills Trainer

- Developed & conducted numerous workshops and training sessions
- Barbara has delivered multiple college, university and professional courses, workshops & seminars to rave reviews
